I spent more than 30 years un the US Army as a Signal Corps Officer. The time was divided into a little less than 13 years as Regular Army and a little more than 15 years as a Reservist. I was placed in the Retired Reserves in Jan 2008 after 28 years of commissioned service. The Intelligence Center asked me to return to Active Duty as a Retiree Recall for a year from spring 2008 to spring 2009 to complete a key Counter-IED training mission and then another two years from March 2010 to March 2012 to support the larger Intelligence Center training mission.

While not on Active Duty I worked as a Senior Information Systems Integration Engineer and a Test Engineer for two major defense contractors. I managed or led design and installation teams supporting tactical and strategic missions of the Army's Information Systems Engineering Command and Tests and Evaluations of Joint Services warfighting systems for the Joint Interoperability Command, both at Ft Huachuca, AZ.

In the last two years I have I have been assisting our post when and where I can. I have been working as the Post's LNO to the local university/college ROTC programs. Our post provides awards/medals to deserving cadets from Army, Air Force, and Navy ROTC programs in the area. Recently our post helped the UNC Arnold Air Society Air Force ROTC raise funds for a Gold Star Family charity in February. For now, I believe I can best support our Post as a member of the Post Executive Committee in the role of Parliamentarian. In this manner I can learn more about how our post operates and lend my military and civilian experience to help the PEC continue improving the future for our post.

Thank you for your support.
