

1st Vice Position -- Clifford Baldwin

Clifton Baldwin is an accomplished Air Force Veteran and seasoned technology leader with extensive experience in information technology, training, and regulatory compliance. As President, CEO, and Director of IT, Clifton brings a mission-driven approach to leadership, combining military discipline with deep technical expertise to guide organizations through complex technology and compliance environments.

During his service in the United States Air Force, Clifton developed a strong foundation in operational excellence, teamwork, and strategic problem-solving. These values continue to shape his leadership style and commitment to integrity, accountability, and performance.

Clifton's leadership integrates technology strategy, workforce development, and compliance oversight, enabling organizations to modernize their infrastructure while maintaining strong governance and security standards. His passion for mentoring, education, and innovation continues to influence the professionals and organizations he works with.

Through his roles as executive leader, IT trainer, and compliance specialist, Clifton Baldwin remains committed to strengthening organizations through technology, knowledge sharing, and responsible leadership.