

Leonardo Martinez

I am Leonardo Martinez, I am running for the position of Veteran Resource Officer, I was in the United States Marine Corps and served from 2018-2022 and was honorably discharged as a Cpl/E-4. I had completed two tours serving under the unit 3rd Battalion 1st Marines; going to places such as Mexico for a presidential mission and Kuwait, Bahrain, and Saudi Arabia for a Special Purpose Marine Air-Ground-Task Force. After completing my contract, I was a chef at Duke University and a Phlebotomist with the American Red Cross for a short while before I began my journey in Nursing. In the time of being part of this post, Ive participated in multiple events such as hog cook offs, the fall festivals and volunteered as the Drill Master in our Honor Guard. I am a family man, I am married to a fellow Navy Corpsman and have a son at home. I am a man of the people and who is very much open to helping our veteran community from wherever or however they need; apart from locating, closing with, and destroying the enemy by fire and maneuver, I am well at delegating with others whether in a group or one-on-one interactions. The goal in my eyes is to provide those with the tools and essentials that they've earned to provide them with a comfortable way of living and suitable standards of care through the VA. As a younger member I do have an insightful methodology for certain things and am not set in constant stalemates. Communication is important and we are in the age of technology and being forward with how we do that can eliminate topics and voices being lost in translation.

Thank you for the taking the time to read this biography,
